Type of Project and Reasons

Students spend 8 hours per day at school and they have breakfast and lunch. After becoming sensitive to food waste with the material covered in Global Scholars and having observed the amount of uneaten cookies thrown away at the school diner, Students decided to recycle uneaten cookies from breakfast for everybody to have something to eat when they felt hungry.

Development of Project

Students collected boxes for each class at school and organized to collect the cookies and give them to the teacher in charge.

We later analysed their responsibility in the task and made amendments. We measured internal level of satisfaction and for that we learnt how to draw graphs.

Impact

The level of institutional impact surprised me and the principal and vice principal. We learnt and challenged customs in the food service we had not thought about.

Students, being in their last year at school, decided to continue with the project till the end of the year even though they were supposed to have finished it before winter holidays. For this, they reconditioned the boxes and decorated them with messages of love to the other students.
